MINDEN HOCKEY PLAYER RECEIVES ANONYMOUS PHONE CALL, SATURDAY EVENING

On Saturday evening the Publisher of the Minden Progress, (this writer) who happens to play hockey for the Minden Monarchs, received an anonymous phone call, Saturday evening, February 4th.

The caller who said he was a member of the Haliburton Merchants, and was speaking on behalf of the team, claimed the article in the Minden Progress last week regarding the Minden - Haliburton hockey game, was in poor taste, and unfair to the Haliburton team. He went on to say, "because of the action on the part of a few players, it was no reason to condemn the entire club." He said, "because you scored four goals and wrote such an article, you should expect to be a marked man, in our next game Thursday night."

This caller, who wouldn't give his name, when asked two or three times — wanted an explanation for the article. Now, we are not in the habit of explaining to people who are not big enough to give their name, but this caller was privileged with an answer.

We tried to explain the fact that being a hockey player, does not have anything to do with writing an article, or publishing a paper. The job of reporting is to bring out the facts, and publicize an event. When we asked our caller about the two or three items mentioned of poor sportsmanship in the article — he agreed with us, so we couldn't understand why he called.

We finished our conversation with the mystery caller by saying that over the years this writer has played the game, I would have gone stark raving mad, if I had of got up-set with everything which was written about me. It's all part of playing the game.

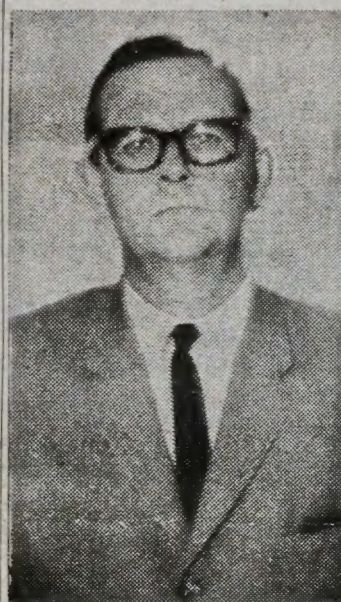

Be on hand tonight when the Minden Monarchs play host to the Haliburton Merchants, game time 9:00 p.m. — it might prove to be a good contest — who knows, maybe our mystery voice will be on the ice, packing a gun under his elbow pad.

Problems — problems. A couple of times in the past month our Editor has come up against some problems. He figured he had everything worked out and going smooth — he had increased the size of his building — built a couple of modern offices — and in order to give better service he had purchased a new press. Everything was all ready to go last Thursday morning — he moved the press into position and went to hook it up — there was only one small problem — the electricity he had to run it wasn't the right kind — even though electricity ran right by the front and back door — none of it was the right kind. So, for a few days he's got a real fine press — of course he can't run it but that'll soon be fixed.

In this age of bi-culturalism any information we can get assists us to understand the other fellow. J. Earl Palmer has just returned from a week's curling in Quebec city and he was quite impressed with the hospitality of the French and their feeling of being a part of Canada. According to Earl the majority of the French Canadians are strong for a united Canada and the separatists are looked upon as a mis-guided splinter group and don't carry to much weight. While in Quebec Earl started an "instand French" which he found interesting and he has been practising since he came home. There is a peculiarity between the English version and French that could be amusing, according to Earl some of our common, everyday expression lose a little in the French version, for instance — "He thinks he's King Tut" — "Ill se prawn poor le johmbree doo mohnd." French translation — "He thinks he's the world's belly button." You've heard the expression — "it's raining cats and dogs" In French — Ill moo-ya ah bwahr deboo — translation, "It's raining so hard you can drink it standing up."

That gives you a rough idea — any more explanations will have to be obtained from Monsieur Palmer.

Listening to the news the other night I ran across a bit of a paradox. The Legislature, according to the announcer, was in the process of lowering the boom on the car dealers — used cars in particular. The main point of contention was the statement — "your car financed at 6 per cent bank rates," which they maintained was a misrepresentation. Who was sponsoring the news? You guessed it — a used car dealer and his selling gimmick which came right up after the news — $36.00 down and the remainder over the next 36 months at 6 per cent bank rates. How about that?

In the mail one of my friends took me to task for the spelling of Sir John's name in last week's article. He wrote, and I quote — "was surprised to see Sir John's name spelled with a 'Mc' — you should know it is spelled 'MacDonald'."

I was surprised too — I didn't know my friend could read.

I had a friend once who showed his wife a lot of love and affection — he took her to a drive in movie and let her peek into the cars.

Until next week then — remember "It is better to live rich than to die rich." See you then.

TREES — OUR HERITAGE

R. W. Tippet, of the Dept. of Lands and Forests reports it is time to step back and take a long serious look at the depletion and mis-use of our forests in Northumberland County. The forests and trees which are our heritage may not be the heritage of our grandchildren at the present rate of its destruction.

The value of Canada's forests, unfortunately, is appreciated only to a small degree by the average Canadian. Why? Because a great many of our people do not know that many of our common articles of everyday life come from the forest.

If you will stop and think for a few moments you will find that you are using some of the products of the forest every moment of your life; the paper on which these words are printed comes from a tree, the handle of your pen, your pencil, your baseball bat, your hockey stick, the ribbon in your hair, the house in which you live, and many other articles of daily use are all likely to be produced, directly or indirectly, from trees.

When we remember that our need for wood is almost as great as our need for food, we begin to think of the value of the forest.

This problem is not only one of the wise use of the forests "up north" that we commonly think about, but of those right in our own backyards. Presently in Northumberland County there are over 236,000 trees cut annually, as compared to 110,000 trees planted. This is not a good situation. In many areas and counties it has become a common practice to plant one or two trees for every one cut. We are nowhere near this goal. In this County alone it is estimated that 30,000 acres of cleared sub-marginal agricultural land is lying idle. Why has this land been left like this? This can only be answered by the owner himself.

To help guarantee this heritage for the future the Department of Lands and Forests is taking action under the Woodlands Improvement Act. Under this Act the Department will plant trees and improve woodlands on private land, at no cost to the owner except purchase of the trees. To qualify, owners must agree to plant five or more acres of trees or improve five or more acres of woodlot. This continuous service is available according to the following schedule, beginning January 1st of the year noted: Peterborough County 1967, Durham, Northumberland Counties 1968, Victoria, Haliburton Counties, 1969.

Woods, Waters and Wildlife

by JAMES WOODFORD

One of the sad things about air pollution is that it ruins the snow ice cream making. Maybe you know that if you mix sweetened, flavoured whipped cream with about twice as much fluffy, fresh snow, it crystallizes into something absolutely delicious. My wife and children like snow ice cream with "real" maple syrup, but I like it plain, just for the marvelous texture and subtle flavour.

The ideal time to make snow ice cream is during a blizzard, while the snow is clean, white, and pure as a Christmas card. How long after the storm you can make snow ice cream depends on where you live. If you live out in the country, where the air is clean, you can make it a day or two afterwards. But in the city, you'll find a black layer of dirt on top of the snow — even a few hours after it has fallen.

No mystery about this — the air in cities is just very, very dirty. After last fall's big smog scare on the east coast, most people have settled down complacently, thinking the danger is pretty much gone. But air pollution is still with us, and one look at the snow a week or two after it has fallen will prove it to you. After a cold winter of several snowfalls on top of each other, you can measure the winter's dirt by the residue left in layers on the last snow bank of spring. And this is only the stuff you can see — carbon monoxide and sulphur dioxide, for example, leave no residue. In the city, it's astonishing how fast the snow gets black — too black for snow ice cream in just a couple of hours.

Here are some tips in making snow ice cream, so you'll be prepared when the next snowstorm arrives.

Before supper, put the serving dishes, pan for getting snow, mixer bowl and beaters in the refrigerator. When you're ready for dessert, send one of the children out with the cold pan for a panful of snow. This is a great adventure, so if the children fight for the privilege, send them all out.

Meanwhile, whip half a pint of heavy whipping cream (no aerated stuff) and add a teaspoon of vanilla and about a quarter cup of sugar. Add the snow gradually until the whipped cream won't take any more and the snow seems to have changed texture.

Make it right at the table — eat quickly before it melts — and don't use any polluted snow.

McCULLOCH UNVEILS NEW PACKAGE

A unique and novel chain saw package has been developed by McCulloch of Canada Ltd. to encourage casual use of power chain saws.

Called the "Woodcutters Kit" the package aimed principally at metro areas and consists of a MAC 1-10 chain saw, with cutting attachment mounted at factory, all necessary tools, a "hard hat", oil, and gas can.

McCulloch's General Sales Manager, K. Ranney, describes the move aimed at new users, people who've never held a saw or perhaps even seen one, and who may envision their use as being quite complicated.

"With the Woodcutters Kit, we intend to show them at a glance that anyone can own and use a powersaw, this package, at one low price, is the best all around combination of saw and accessories for the average casual user and solves the problem of what to buy and what to add to it, all in one easy purchase.

The kit has been enthusiastically received by McCulloch dealers, and is on display now in ten out with the cold pan for a most centres.

If you're looking for a place to start on home improvements, consider these facts about electric wiring.

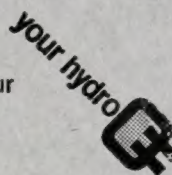

To most people, home improvements mean a panelled recreation room or a shiny new set of kitchen cupboards. But there's a way to improve the improvements: modernize your home wiring first.

Up-to-date wiring lets you make the most of the new room you're building, or the old one you're re-styling. It lets you place your lighting wherever you like, have as many electrical outlets as you choose, and use as many appliances as you need without popping fuses.

In fact, you'll notice pleasant changes all through your home. Modern wiring can improve the efficiency of your lighting and the performance of your appliances. It puts such comforts as electric heating and air conditioning well within your reach. It can also make a big difference to the safety and re-sale value of your home. Before you reach for your toolbox, reach for your telephone. Call a qualified electrical contractor, or your Hydro.

Up-to-date wiring costs less than you may think. Yet it could be your most important home improvement of all.

Application Wanted

GRACE COLBURN, President, and her committees deserve much credit. JIM WADE superintendant of Hyland Crest is very happy with his new addition, and said the little gal keeps him busy — wait till he gets three! REG WELCH did a fine job of organizing the Winter Carnival Information Booth — as vice-chairman of the committee, he looks like he is ready to take over next year. DR. BOB KOVAL, one of the new members of Minden Rotary, was foxed into a little majic on Monday night by GARNET GRAHAM of the Fenelon Falls Club — the "Doc" proved too clever as he kept his money in his pocket.

For many years the Knowles family spent their summers at South Lake. Later Mr. and Mrs. George Knowles lived on North Water St. in Minden.

SWEEP!!

Canadians are amazed at how little our good neighbours to the south of us, know about Canada. They think we live in a land of perpetual ice and snow, and most of the population is either French or Indian.

We have only ourselves to blame. Canadians are very Conservative people, and do not spread abroad the good news, that Canada is indeed a great country with a great future.

They know very little about our sports. A St. Petersburg paper described curling, quote: "This is a kind of slippery shuffleboard imported from Scotland, in which skaters with brooms push around objects that look like spittoons with handles", unquote.

SCHOOL GROUPS TO VISIT EXPO ON SPECIAL PLAN

A plan devised by the Expo '67 corporation management is offering "Education Passports" to children in primary and secondary schools across Canada. The plan has been given official endorsement by Ontario Education Minister, William Davis.

Passports will be available to school boards and to educational institutions recognized by the Department of Education. Universities are not included in the plan.

If school boards place orders directly with Expo '67 to a minimum value of $1,000, the cost to each student will be approximately 72 cents per passport. Otherwise, school boards may purchase passports in smaller group lots from commercial banks at a cost of 75 cents per passport. This is a considerable saving over the general daily admission price of $1.25 for children up to 13 years of age and $2.50 for persons 14 years and over.

Each group must be made up of a minimum of 30 children with a supervising monitor for every 10 children.

For administrative reasons, all passport orders must be placed before March 1, 1967. They will not be on sale at the gates of the exhibition.

Under the scheme, visits by school groups are scheduled to take place Mondays to Fridays from May 1 to June 16, and September 11 to October 20. Official holidays are excepted as these visits will be treated as part of the school curriculum.

SPORTS

WITH BOB BEENEY

Two penalties that caused two goals could very well have turned a victory by the Minden Pee Wees into a defeat. The Minden team played host to Sunderland last Friday night in the first game of a home and home goals to count series. The team pulled off a 4 - 3 win but took until the last few minutes of the third period to do it.

The game started off at a quick pace and at the five minute mark Bill Jackson broke in on Brian Hadden the Sunderland goaltender only to lose possession of the puck at the last moment and dribbled the puck to the corner of the rink. However two minutes later Jackson again stole the puck and this time made no mistake, and drilled the puck into the right corner of the net.

A few minutes later Roger Yearwood picked up an interference penalty and while he was off Don Gordon shifted around Royce Miller and raised a hard shot into the top corner. Minden took the lead again at the 14 minute mark when Bev Hicks dented the twine after taking a pass from Bob Arbuthnot. Royce Miller also earned an assist on the goal.

In the second period Scott Harvey charged a Sunderland player and received a minor penalty. While he was off Gordon scored his second goal of the night at the 5 minute mark to tie the score at 2 - 2. He drew Bob Dudman out of the Minden goal for the classiest tally of the night.

In the third period Sunderland took the lead in the game for the first time when Nichols scored at the 3:15 mark.

At 5:40 Bob Arbuthnot received an interference penalty but the Minden team weathered the storm and at 11 minute mark Bev Hicks scored his second goal of the night after taking a pass from Royce Miller. Bev. let a shot go from just inside the blue line on left wing that just caught the left hand corner of the Sunderland goal.

At 12:15 Sunderland suffered a high sticking penalty and while they were short handed Hicks scored again on a pass from Bob Arbuthnot.

Minden plays the return game in Sunderland tonight and will have their hands filled in this most important game.

LITTLE N. H. L. TOURNAMENT

Don't forget the Little N.H.L. Novice and Pee-Wee Tournaments to be held in Minden this Saturday. The winners will travel to Keene later in the season for the next round of games.

INTERMEDIATE HOCKEY CHATTER

Dave Sawyers has come back this year with the Monarchs, and is playing pretty well. The same can be said for veteran goaltender Bob Austin. Jack Raymond has added plenty of spark back on defence. We see Fred Cooper out with posters every week — one can always count on Fred to do a good job as manager.

The Intermediates have come along way this year after not having an entry last season. If you haven't seen the locals play, there is a game tonight (Thursday) here in Minden, with game time set for 9:00 p.m.

PENETANG WINTERAMA PRENTICE FAMILY OF MINDEN STOLE SHOW LAST YEAR

The annual snowmobile competitions at Penetanguishene's Winterama are receiving a healthy shot in the arm this year. Castrol Oils (Canada) Ltd., have undertaken to sponsor the event to the tune of $2,500.

Officially titled Castrol Ontario Snowmobile Championships, the competition rates top billing on Winterama weekend, February 24, 25 and 26.

Winterama, possibly Ontario's oldest and liveliest winter carnival, marks its 20th anniversary as Canada celebrates its Centennial year in 1967.

Snowmobiles — motorized toboggans of various makes — first made their appearance at Winterama several years ago and gradually stole the show from the glamorous, speedy, propeller-driven "scoots" as a major attraction of the Carnival.

The Castrol sponsorship has allowed competition officials to add over $1,200 to last year's $500 worth of cash awards trophies and prizes.

Last year, the first "Ontario Championship" to be held at Winterama, saw Paul Prentice of Minden, who was then 14, walk off with the championship. With his sister Bonnie and father Bill Prentice, the family left their mark in championship records.

The Castrol Ontario Championships are aimed mainly at the amateur snowmobile enthusiast with a stock machine. Events for men, ladies, youths and children make up this year's program, including a longer, improved cross-country race and jumping competitions.

PROGRESS "BOOK REVIEW

"Down but not Out" is the title of a Survival Handbook prepared by the R.C.A.F. Survival Training Staff and published by the Queens Printer, Ottawa.

This handbook of some 185 pages in heavy cardboard cover, sells for $3.00 from the Queens Printer in Ottawa or any Government Book Store.

A glance at the subjects covered will quickly show any outdoorsman the value of this book. Its true it was developed basically to show downed air men how to live under any conditions they might encounter but it would be equally valuable to any hunter, trapper, fisherman or tourist who might become lost in the bush at any season of the year.

To have a handbook covering the following basic subjects in a clear, concise manner makes it much more than just another book. Survival Geography, First Aid, Shelters, Fire methods, Hunting and fishing, Food and Water (which covers Poisonous and Edible plants etc.), Getting your Bearings, both day and night.

The final chapter covering Knots and splices is a fitting conclusion to Down but Not Out.

This very excellent handbook should be an outdoorsmans Bible to be carried in kits or tackle boxes.

ELECTRICITY POWERS CANADA'S PROGRESS

Electricity has powered Canada's progress for a long time.

While the history of electric power in Canada goes back more than 80 years, enterprising pioneers in Ontario were in the vanguard of the world's electrical researchers.

In the 1870s and 1880s, just a few years after Confederation, Canadians like Henry Woodward and John Joseph of Toronto, and Thomas Ahearn of Ottawa, were fabricating incandescent and arc lamps, constructing central power stations and designing electric railways.

Credit for the first practical incandescent lamp belongs to Thomas Alva Edison, however. His breakthrough in 1879 assured the future of the budding electrical industry.

Electrical energy was available in Ontario from numerous sources in those early days, but it wasn't until 1906 that the public utility concept of supplying power came into being with the creation of Ontario Hydro. From that point on the province has never looked back.

Today, in partnership with 352 municipal utilities, Ontario Hydro provides more than two million customers with an abundance of low-cost electrical energy.

Each year Canadians pay tribute to the electrical industry and its pioneers during National Electrical Week — timed to coincide with the birthdate of Edison. This year it will be celebrated Feb. 5 to 11.

Fittingly, Ontario Hydro and the municipal utilities will follow up the occasion by kicking off their programs for Canada's Centennial celebrations.

Leading off the list of activities will be the opening of the Hydro Hall of Memory at Niagara Falls in February. Theme of the project is "Public Power and its People". Recorded in the Hall are events leading up to the opening of Hydro's Sir Adam Beck generating station No. 1 — first major power station built by the Commission, and the careers of people who played important roles in the development of public power.

Hydro's major contribution to Canada's Centennial is at Expo '67. Ontario Hydro and Hydro-Quebec are sharing equally in a $1,500,000 exhibit in the "Resources for Man" section of the "Man the Producer" pavilion.

The exhibit will show various sources of electric energy in their present state of development and suggest their roles in days to come.

As well, the Commission will participate in the provincial government's Expo exhibit and focus attention on the Ontario pavilion with a spectacular lighting display.
